

Malcolm H. Armstrong, Ph.D.

Professor - Communication & Film Studies | Tallahassee Community College

Education:

- Ph.D., Mass Communication, Florida State University, 1999.
- M.A., Public Communication, California State University, Chico, 1989.
- B.A., Communication Design, California State University, Chico, 1987.
- A.A., Santa Barbara City College, Santa Barbara, CA., 1984.

Courses Instructor:

- Film Appreciation.
- History of Film.
- Media Aesthetics.
- Public Speaking (Communication).

Professional Organizations:

Popular Culture Association; Florida Communication Association; Southern States Communication Association; Western States Communication Association; Florida Association of Community Colleges.

Member of Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

Related Information:

- Published photography; Feature film and video production work.
- Director/Production work on several professionally produced plays.
- Music composer (various media presentations; <https://www.reverbnation.com/armstrong>).

For inquiries, please contact me via one of the following:

Tallahassee Community College
Division of Communications & Humanities
444 Appleyard Drive
Tallahassee, FL 32304-2895

Office Phone: (850) 201-8033
E-mail: armstrom@tcc.fl.edu

My "Mutt" guarding the Pharaoh Mummy (Halloween)